Asks Ruling on Emergency Fund at Colony

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two representatives who voted against each other on the measure today asked for an official opinion on whether Gov. Orval E. Faubus can dip into his emergency fund to help the Children's Colony operate while his $16 million omnibus bill is under court attack.

Rep. Harry W. Carter of Pulaski County, who voted against the bill, and Rep. Jim Brandon, also of Pulaski, who voted for it, requested Atty. Gen. Frank Holt for an immediate ruling.

Faubus has said that one effect of the lawsuit challenging constitutionality of the act probably would be to require that 32 children be sent home from the colony, which is one of more than 30 departments and agencies appropriated for in the bill.

Colony officials are exploring ways to try to avoid this eventuality.

Several persons have suggested that Faubus use his emergency fund for the colony.

Carter and Brandon wrote Holt, that in fairness to Faubus they thought they should seek an official ruling.

"Governors' emergency funds, both of Faubus and of previous executives, have been used in the past for a wide variety of purposes."

Chancellor Guy E. Williams, who will hear the lawsuit, said Monday he would look closely at further petitions to intervene in the case, which he said might prevent setting of a trial date.

He said he thought the suit should get a speedy hearing.

New requests to intervene in the suit filed by Pulaski County Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr. were presented Monday on behalf of two unions, the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees, Arkansas Municipal League and Arkansas Military Department. One asked for a 20-day delay to allow preparation of a more complete intervention.

Williams said if every intervenor asked for 20 days the case "never would come to trial."

Williams said he would grant interventions which had merit but would not allow such actions to delay the suit.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus has until April 12 to file a reply to the suit, which contends the omnibus law violates a constitutional requirement calling for separate appropriations bills. Faubus' legal advisor, William J. Smith, said he will confer two or three days with Asst. Atty. Gen. Sam Boyce, who has been assigned to handle the case for the state.

Hope Sends 25-Man Delegation to Red River Convention

THIS WAS THE MILLWOOD BREAKFAST AT 7:30 THIS morning in the Crystal Ballroom of the Washington-Yorke Hotel, Shreveport, at the 36th annual convention of the Red River Valley Association.

IT WAS A VICTORY MEETING, AS POINTED OUT BY Congressman Oren Harris and visiting U.S. Corps of Engineers executives, since actual construction is now starting on Millwood Dam on Little River after more than 20 years of controversy and delay. Among the guests today were Maj. Gen. Keith R. Barney, acting chief of the Corps of Engineers, Washington; Maj. Gen. Robert J. Fleming, Southwestern division chief, Dallas; and Col. Howard Penney of the Tulsa office of the Engineers. Congressman Harris and Col. Penney spoke at the Millwood Breakfast. Attending the breakfast were 110, with 25-man delegations from both Hope and Texarkana.

EDITOR'S APOLOGY: Someone helped the photographer identify those at the speaker's table — but when the picture came up the number of faces didn't jibe with the number of names. Owing to the newspaper's deadline it was impossible to make correction.

CONGRESSMAN OREN HARRIS ADDRESSES THE Breakfast. He reminded his listeners that in this same room back in 1955 he made the speech outlining the compromise agreement adding upstream dams to the Little River project which finally cleared the way for authorization of construction funds for Millwood Dam.

Medical Code Didn't Apply

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The medical code which requires a doctor to hold in confidence information about his patients doesn't apply if the patient is a cocker spaniel.

Atty. Gen. Frank Holt clarified that question today for Dr. J. P. Herron, state health officer, who had asked if he could legally give an insurance company information about a rabies test performed on a spaniel.

"I know of no statute which would require or prohibit your department from giving this information," the opinion said.

Boy 13, Kills His Mother

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Something kept telling him to do it, Gary Geiger told authorities. So he got a shotgun, sneaked up behind his mother while she was playing the organ and fatally blasted her in the back Monday night, the sheriff reported.

At first, Sheriff Harley Wornstaff said, Gary told of a man breaking into the house and killing his mother, Lucille Geiger, in her late 30s.

But the boy, 13, broke down under questioning, the sheriff said, and admitted slaying her.

Cubans to Release Two Americans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Americans held in Cuba since their plane was forced down on a flight over the island are being released today, two Congress members announced.

They are pilot Linden Blue, about 26, of Denver, Colo., and his passenger, Donald Swenson, 36, an executive with Gerber Products Co. of Fremont, Mich.

Sen. Gordon Allott and Rep. Peter H. Dominick, Colorado Republicans, said they had been told by the State Department that Blue and Swenson were being freed.

They had been held incommunicado since March 24 when their light private plane was forced down while flying over Cuba en route from Key West, Fla., to Matanzas, Matanzas.

More Candidates for Congress

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The 6th Congressional District race got two more official candidates today.

John H. Jones, 39-year-old Pine Bluff lawyer, qualified as a candidate with Secretary of State Nancy Hall. And Jim Cross, 28, a Pine Bluff cotton buyer, sent off filing fees to the district's 13 counties.

Cross said he would qualify as a candidate with Mrs. Hall Saturday, the last day to file for the special election April 18 to fill a vacancy created by the death of Rep. W. F. Norrell, D-Ark.

Three other candidates had filed previously. Norrell's widow, former Hot Springs Municipal Judge M. C. Lewis Jr. and Sam D. Carson of Benton.

Jones ran unsuccessfully against Norrell in the 1956 Democratic primary.

Cars Collide, Damage Heavy

A North Dewey and 8th Streets yesterday autos driven by C. I. Johnson of Hope and Earl J. Thomas of Colton Valley, La. collided with heavy damage resulting. City Officers Shirley and Milam said the Johnson car was practically demolished and the Louisiana auto had fender, body and windshield damage.

Parking Setup Changed on Second St.

Starting as soon as it can be marked off here will be only parallel parking on Second Street in the downtown area, the City Board of Directors ruled yesterday following a discussion of the problem with a group of businessmen.

In their action the Directors refused a building permit to Dean Browning because the proposed building did not meet rules and regulations of the city building code. The structure was to have been erected at Third and Hazel as an addition to his present location. The construction was stopped by the fire chief because of certain material disallowed in the city's fire zone. The Board directed Mr. Browning to meet specifications and a permit would be granted.

There was no action on a suggestion that Mockingbird Lane be opened from Third Street to Fair park, near the city limits. The group wanted to investigate the matter further before taking action.

The group voted to pay whatever tax rebate is necessary to clear the title to the old dumping ground so it can be delivered to a buyer. The matter of money involved amounts to only $1.37 taxes paid by a Nashville woman through an error.

In regard to the meter violation tickets only courtesy tickets will be placed on out of county cars in the future.

A permit was granted C. H. Hampton for construction of a house on the Russian road.

Katanga Boss Rallies Forces to Fight UN

By ERROL FRIEDMANN
ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga President Moïse Tshombe, thwarted in a move to seize the Elisabethville airport from U.N. forces, angrily called on his supporters today to get ready to fight the United Nations.

Two hours later he ordered them off, but knife-wielding Africans followed him to the airport. At mid-afternoon the strong man on roads leading to the airport, are Belgians retained by Tshombe, leader of secessionist Katanga Province ordered full mobilization and turned this capital city into an armed camp. He handed the U.N. forces an ultimatum to surrender the airport within two hours. Then, as tension mounted, Tshombe announced he and U.N. officials had reached an agreement to avert an explosion.

Even as this was announced, frenzied Africans were milling about unarmored Swedish U.N. soldiers, attacking them with stones and smashing their cars. Two Swedish drivers were rescued by white members of the Katanga army.

That army, the most disciplined in the Congo, is commanded by Tshombe but many of its officers are Belgians retained by Tshombe. Belgium formerly ruled this.

Rubinoff to Play Here Friday, May 5

When Dave Rubinoff appears in popular concert in Hope at the High School Auditorium on Friday, May 5, he will perform as violin solos the full scores of Chopin's Polonaise, the Warsaw Concerto, and Rhapsody in Blue. The American public has grown to love these numbers arranged for piano and orchestra, but Rubinoff feels they lend themselves to violin equally as well.

A graduate of the Royal Conservatory in Warsaw, Poland, Rubinoff knew as a child the martial feeling inspired by the immortal Polonaise. Even with freedom today confronted with tyranny and treachery as Chopin knew it, the opus is appropriate as a current theme of the times.

The Polonaise was written by Chopin with a burning spirit of national sympathy and has been likened to "Caucasian Buried in Flowers."

Rubinoff knew George Gershwin and heard him perform the Rhapsody in Blue for the first time in 1924. Gershwin wrote the great jazz classic in a few weeks, but in transcribing it for violin, Rubinoff spent months in perfecting the arrangement to his satisfaction.

He was more fortunate in preparing the soul-stirring Warsaw Concerto as the Composer, Richard Addinsell, worked with him on the transcribed violin version. Mr. Addinsell felt after hearing Rubinoff play the Concerto that it was a new revelation in depth of feeling as only the violin could express it.

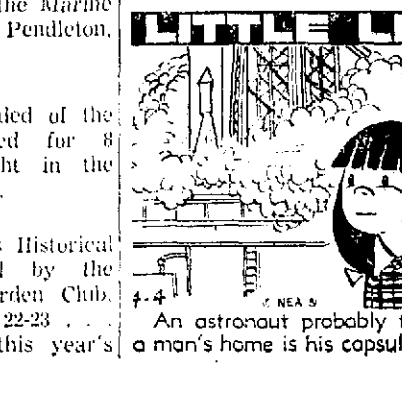

You may purchase tickets from members of local garden clubs, Music club, Junior Auxiliary and D.A.R. and hear these premiere performances on the violin.

bond campaign.

Faubus was not available for comment.

The bond issue must be approved by voters before any bonds can be sold.

Faubus has declined repeatedly to hint when an election might be called.

A $16 million omnibus bill tied in with the bond issue was passed by the 1961 legislature but its constitutionality is being challenged in a court suit.

Whaley said Faubus outlined his program and Smith detailed the legislative acts which set it up.

Whaley said the group, which was drawn from over the state, discussed opposition which has arisen to the program.

Among those attending the meeting were: W. R. (Will) Stephens,

Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott,
chairman of the State Hospital

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov.
Orval F. Faubus met Monday night with about 30 men, including some of the most influential in Arkansas, to acquaint them with his controversial $76 million building and spending program, the Arkansas Gazette said today.
One newspaper said the meeting was held in a motel room.

The Gazette quoted Storm Wha-ley, vice president in charge of Health Sciences for the University of Arkansas, as saying the meeting was to outline the building program to the men.

In answer to a question, Whaley told the Gazette it was logical to expect the men to go home and use their influence in the upcoming campaign. But he said the meeting should not be considered a kick-off for the campaign. A $60 million bond issue must be passed in an election before it can be put into operation.

A $16 million omnibus bill that goes with it was passed by the 1961 Legislature and now its constitutionality is being challenged in a court suit.

The Gazette said Faubus, dressed in a sport shirt, left through a back door and was not questioned as to the meeting.
Whaley told a newsman the governor discussed the program and his attorney, William J. Smith, described the legislative acts setting it up.

Whaley was quoted as saying the men discussed the opposition that has cropped up to the pro-

Folk Singer Sentenced for Contempt

NEW YORK (AP)—Folk singer Pete Seeger, 42, was sentenced today to one year's imprisonment for contempt of Congress by refusing to answer questions about his possible Communist affiliations.

Seeger was convicted last week on 10 contempt counts. He was sentenced by U. S. Dist. Judge Thomas F. Murphy.

As he entered the courtroom with a banjo slung over his shoulders, he waved cheerily to more than 100 spectators who returned his greeting.

Before he was sentenced Seeger asked the court for permission to "sing a song which I think is appropos."

"You may not," replied Judge
Murphy firmly.

Seeger appeared before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in 1955 when it was investigating possible Communist infiltration of the entertainment field. He refused to answer any questions about political beliefs and associations, saying such questions were "improper and immoral to be asked of any American."

The government had said there was evidence Seeger had used his talents as an entertainer to promote Communist activities.

It would be successful.

The Gazette said others attending the meeting included W.R.

the Highway Commission; state
Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott,
chairman of the State Hospital

announced Monday it would hon-plug that continued pouring water during the fire and earthquake of 1906 after water mains throughout San Francisco had been broken the hydrant, at 20th and Church up the youths, 18 to 20 years old, Monday afternoon. They produced pistols, took over his car and drove down a side road, he said.

He told officers one slugged him with a .45 caliber pistol and that they then tore up a raincoat and bound him with it, then dragged him into the woods and left him.

Bagby said they took $70 and his car. He worked free, got a ride to Hot Springs and notified authorities. He was treated for a scalp wound.

The sheriff's office said the car was found abandoned in Little Rock.

Protect Your Garden From Caterpillars

Protect your garden from caterpillars which can reduce stands of garden crops and cause poor quality and slow growth in plants that are not killed, Calvin J. Caldwell, county agent, cautions.

Cutworms, which feed at night, are among the first to attack plants. There may be more than one kind but all of them do similar damage. Plants are cut off at the soil line and the worm may be found burrowed in the soil around the stem of the last plant that was cut. Cutworms may attack corn, cabbage, onion, tomato, and many other crops, Mr.
Caldwell says.

Control is easy. When cutworm damage occurs, treat the soil with an insecticide such as Toxaphene

The status symbol among East African tribesmen is the cow. The larger a man's herd of cattle, the wealthier he is.

or dieldrin. Apply 10 pounds of 20 per cent toxaphene dust or 20 pounds of 2 1/2 percent dieldrin dust to one acre. For small plots, cover the soil with a light film of dust. For just a few plants, such as tomatoes and cabbage, make a paper collar out of stiff paper and place around the stem of each plant.

Another group of caterpillars attacks early cabbage. These worms make lacework of cabbage leaves and may ruin the cabbage head. Mr. Caldwell says there are three different worms attacking cabbage and related crops, the most conspicuous one being the imported cabbage worm. The adult is the white butterfly seen flying over the plants on warm days. Larvae or worms of cabbage looper and the diamond back moth are sometimes numerous, also.

To grow cabbage free of these worms, dust plants at weekly intervals with four percent mallathion dust. Spray may be made by adding two tablespoons 57 percent malathion concentrate and two tablespoons soap or detergent to one gallon water. This same material may be used to control aphids (plant lice) on greens.

Did you know Gasoline is Taxed at a Rate 5 Times as High as Diamonds?

IN ARKANSAS, YOU PAY $1.05 TAX ON 10 GALLONS OF GASOLINE

Gasoline taxes will be lowered—if the latest temporary Federal gasoline tax increase expires on June 30th as scheduled by the 1959 Federal Highway Act.

Along with all good citizens, we are in favor of building the roads that the motoring public needs.
But, in the last 10 years alone, Federal and State taxes nationwide on gasoline have skyrocketed 51%—skyrocketed to a point where gasoline, a basic commodity, is actually taxed at a rate five times as high as luxuries like diamonds and mink coats.

Must gasoline taxes be so high? Most people believe that gasoline taxes are high because the money is needed to pay for our national highway program. This is not so.

The fact is that out of every highway-user tax dollar collected last year by the Federal government, more than 40 cents was diverted to non-highway purposes.

If these highway-user tax revenues were spent for highways—as they should be—gasoline taxes could be lowered, and the highway program given a boost.

In fact, the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1959 provides that when the added temporary Federal gasoline tax expires on June 30th, 1961, as scheduled, some $802 million a year in highway-user taxes—now diverted to the U. S. Treasury's general fund—will instead be deposited in the Highway Trust Fund.

As a result, if the latest Federal temporary gasoline tax increase expires on June 30th as scheduled—the national highway program will actually get $225 million more each year than it now receives from the latest Federal temporary gasoline tax increase.

In January of this year, after an exhaustive 2-year survey of national transportation policy, a special U. S.
Senate study group confirmed the wisdom of this decision.

This will be good news for you. You will be able to enjoy a steadily improving highway system, at a lower gasoline tax-rate.

HERE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT TODAY'S HIGH GASOLINE TAXES

- In Arkansas, you pay $1.05 tax on 10 gallons of gasoline.
- You pay 10.5¢ tax on a gallon—4¢ in Federal taxes plus 6.5¢ in State taxes.
- Gasoline is taxed at a rate 5 times as high as diamonds.
- The average Arkansas motor vehicle owner pays $93 a year in gasoline taxes.
- Since 1951 there have been three increases in the Federal gasoline tax alone.
- In the last 10 years, gasoline taxes nation-wide have skyrocketed 51%—yet the national average price of gasoline itself has risen only 5.5% during the same period.

Katanga Boss

These were the events leading up to the Katanga crisis: A platoon of 24 Katanga soldiers, led by a Belgian officer, tried to seize the airport before dawn. A dozen Swedish soldiers at the airport thwarted the attempt.

In a rage, Tshombe delivered his ultimatum and went direct to the capital's people. He told a screaming crowd of 10,000 that the Swedes must quit the airport within two hours or face attack by the capital's entire population.

"The Swedes may not leave the airport in two hours," he shouted. "If not, I will ask all of you, together with the police and Katanga army, to march on the airport. You will fight, you will shoot, you will recapture the airport."

But before the ultimatum was to take effect, Tshombe announced he had reached an agreement on control of the airport. He rescinded the ultimatum. U.N. officials said Tshombe had agreed that the airport should return to the joint control of Katanga authorities and the United Nations.

By ERROL FRIEDMANN

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe called on his people today to mobilize against the U.N. Congo force after Swedish troops broke up an attempt by 24 Katanga soldiers and their Belgian officer to seize control of the Elisabethville airport.

The 25-man Katanga platoon, armed with automatic weapons, invaded the U.N.-controlled airport Monday night but surrendered without resistance to 12 Swedish soldiers that surrounded them. The Swedes also disarmed several Katanga police at the airport, held them and the troops prisoner for four hours, and then brought them all into Elisabethville at dawn and released them.

"The actions of the United Nations in our country are a 'casus belli' (cause of war)," Tshombe said in his brief statement, which ordered mobilization of the entire population "to deal with threat of foreigners in our state."

The president called on all Katanga citizens to demonstrate outside the U.N. headquarters in the center of Elisabethville.

A showdown appeared imminent between the U.N. force in Elisabethville—500 Swedes and a handful of other nationalities—and the foreign-officered Katanga troops. Relations have worsened sharply between the U.N. command and Tshombe since the Katanga army last week captured the north Katanga town of Mbandaka from troops of Antoine Gizenga's Stanleyville regime who seized it two months ago.

Tshombe appeared to be waiting for another move by the U.N. force. A police cordon thrown around the Swedish camp on the outskirts of the city had orders "to take aggressive action only if there is provocation from the Swedes."

No U.N. troops could be seen on the streets of the capital. Tshombe made rapid tours through Elisabethville's African sectors, preceded by 10 motorcyclists armed with Sten guns. He exhorted the populace to set themselves up against the United Nations.

White and black Katanga troops and police armed with every type of light automatic weapon choked downtown streets.

Machinegun posts were set up overlooking most intersections. The U.N. headquarters was deserted and ringed by heavily armed police. Armored trucks and army vehicles were scattered across the streets nearby, forming roadblocks.

Swedish troops still controlled the airport. All unauthorized persons were barred. About 100 Swedes had been rushed there as reinforcements when the Katanga platoon invaded the field.

Three roadblocks straddled the road from Elisabethville to the airport, two manned by Katanga troops and the third by the Swedes.

DOROTHY DIX College Girl Hope to Reform Ex-Playboy

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am 20 and have been going to college on and off for three years. The reason for this intermittent attendance is low finances. A college education means everything to me. My goal is a degree in social work.

I love a boy and he loves me, but my family opposes our romance because of his past. He is 26 and married, though he has not lived with his wife for five years. His past reputation as a playboy makes it hard for both of us.

I believe, my family to the contrary, that he has changed. If he hasn't, it will break my heart and jeopardize the career I now want more than ever. Do you think he could have changed, or do you think my family is right?—Very Disturbed

Dear Very Disturbed: Not knowing the boy I can't say whether your family is right or wrong but, from what you don't say, certain questions are raised in my mind. Why the long separation? If this young man and his wife are incompatible, why was there no divorce if their religion permits?

If getting a degree in social work means everything to you, then whether or not this boy reforms cannot break your heart or jeopardize your career—unless you let it. Be strong. Keep your eyes on your objective. The only one who can change the boy is himself. He will—if he wants to.

Dear Helen:

My husband is a mama's boy. His mother can do no wrong. He has left me when I needed him most to be with her. I love him and want our marriage to work. He has fine qualities but we are losing all communication with one another. Can he ever untie the apron strings which have been tied so tight and so long? What kind of a father would he make?—Thinking of Giving Up the Ship

Dear Thinking of Giving Up the Ship: To handle this situation successfully, you must first understand it.

The test of a mother's love comes when her child, especially her son, marries. After years of struggling to be the ideal companion for him, she suddenly finds herself relegated to the older generation, where she belongs, but she resents it. Unless both women are mature, it becomes a tug-of-war, with the son and husband the object of a tussle.

The problem would solve itself if you could separate mother and son by moving your family to another town. Is that possible? Your

Spa Escapees Caught at Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Quick-witted detectives have captured the last two men of a group of five who escaped from the Garland County Jail in Hot Springs, Ark., last Wednesday night.

Lloyd Plummer, 22, of Poyen, Ark., accused of robbing and shooting a Hot Springs service station attendant, and Charles Wadsworth, 29, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., who was awaiting arraignment on a bad check charge, were captured Sunday.

The other three were captured within a day after the break.

Plummer and Wadsworth were taken in a Western Union office here. Arkansas officers had notified Kansas City police that the escapees might stop in Kansas to pick up money telegraphed to them.

Detectives Robert Chapman and Bert Cool "planted" a telegram at the telegraph office, and waited. Plummer and Wadsworth showed up, opened the telegram, and read:

"Happy Easter. From detectives Chapman and Cool." The officers had the drop on them.

One of the escapees, Thomas D. Bowman, 37, of Hot Springs, who was held on worthless check charges, was captured shortly after the break when he tried to steal a truck.

Two others, Vesper Black, 40, of Hot Springs, held for forgery and uttering, and Charles Brown, 38, of Lonsdale, Ark., held for auto theft, walked into the Hot Springs sheriff's office and surrendered last Thursday.

Police said the five men used hacksaw blades to saw bars off a window and cut bolts holding a piece of sheet metal to the window. Then they climbed down a blanket to a fire escape.

Police said they didn't know how the men got the blades. Thursday, the jail was searched and more

Cease-Fire Appeal Is Under Study

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts conferred today with the Soviet government on plans for a joint British-Soviet cease-fire appeal to the opposing forces in the Laotian civil war.

Sir Frank talked with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov less than 48 hours after the Soviets had agreed to the British suggestion that such an appeal should be issued.

Diplomatic circles assumed that Roberts brought up points in the Soviet note which the British government felt needed clarification.

These included the timing of the cease-fire appeal and what the Kremlin meant when it said that the pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces should get together on questions connected with the cease-fire.

Another point to be clarified was what would happen if the cease-fire were not effective blades and a home-made black-jack were found. The remaining 20 prisoners were confined to their cells.

Extra dition proceedings on Plummer and Wadsworth were expected to be started today, Kansas City police said.

Viet Nam Is Also Causing Concern

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fighting in Laos gets the headlines in the Kennedy administration's effort to end the red push in Southeast Asia. But the much less noticed trouble next door in South Viet Nam is deep cause for concern.

There Communist guerrillas are rolling up assassinations in their terrorization of the countryside to undermine the American-backed government which is far from completely solid.

Of the two — Laos and South Viet Nam — the latter is more important in the American government's hope of stopping the Red rush. Laos has 2 million people, South Viet Nam has 10 million.

If South Viet Nam goes, Laos should be a cinch for the Communists, peace or no peace.

Just five months ago, anti-Communist army officers revolted in South Viet Nam. They said they were fed up with the restrictions imposed on the people by the government of Ngo Dinh Diem in his fight against the Communist guerrillas.

Diem was thrown out but got back within 24 hours with the help of army forces loyal to him. Among other things, the revolutionists complained he had set up a family dictatorship.

The basic cause for the resentment at the time was Diem's inability to cope with the guerrillas who terrorized peasants, killed local militia and officials. The population was caught between Communist terror and government reprisals.

Diem promised reforms but the Red guerrillas keep infiltrating. For 80 years the French held Indochina as a colony, including Laos. In 1946 Ho Chi Minh, Communist leader in northern Indochina, frustrated by the French in his demands for freedom, led his forces against them.

In the eight-year war that followed the French forces suffered 172,000 casualties, including 45,000 killed. France pumped $5 billion into Indochina. The United States added another $2 billion to help the French.

In the end the French caved in. At the Geneva conference of 1954 — mainly between Britain, France, Russia and Red China — Indochina was split up.

The communists held the biggest part, with 77,000 square miles and 12 million people — what is now North Viet Nam. Laos, off on the edge of Indochina, was split off and given independence.

The anti-Communist government of Diem, who took over what was left, got South Viet Nam with its 50,000 square miles. For years he had his hands full trying to subdue the different South Vietnamese groups which opposed him.

After the truce, bit by bit, Communist guerrillas began to infiltrate from North Viet Nam.

Throughout their eight-year war the French got comparatively little help from the Vietnamese. French officers told American reporters they could count on only about 10 per cent of the population.

At the start of the Indochina war Larry Allen, an AP reporter, said: "In hundreds of thousands of mud-caked, straw-thatched villages of Indochina there is little interest in either the war or demands for independence."

"The people reflect apathy. They don't seem to care whether a Red flag waves over (them) or the banners of democracy."

Eight years later, when half of Indochina was lost to communism Secretary of State John Foster Dulles noted that the French fight against communism still didn't have broad backing.

He tried to draw a lesson from it, and he said: "Resistance to communism needs popular support and this in turn means that the people should feel they are defending their own national institutions."

But the same story is being told now in Laos where the Kennedy administration is trying to stop the drive of northern Laotian Communists who — with the help of Russia and forces from North Viet Nam — are pushing south.

There, too, Associated Press newsmen have reported the same word — "apathy" — which Allen noted in the early days of the Indochina fighting, plus this: That a majority of the Laotians, instead of siding with the Communists or the American-backed government there, just want to be neutral.

Arkansas County Disaster Area
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Small Business Administration today designated Arkansas County, Ark., and adjacent localities as a disaster area as a result of damage from a recent storm.

The action permits home owners, business firms, churches and charitable institutions to apply to SBA for reconstruction loans.

Applications may be filed at the SBA office in Little Rock.

CHAPTER XXV
Later, full fed, Waddell started for his room with the idea of catching a little rest against the longdrag of the night hours to come. But crossing the interval beyond the Hill House alley, he recalled something that had been on his mind, earlier. So instead of going straight to the Crowder home he cut over to the Vespasian cottage and to the small shed and stable in back of it.

Sound of his approach brought a soft, equine whicker, which greeted him again with increasing eagerness as he stepped into the stable. Past the gates of a box stall the head of a bay filly lifted and a velvety nose reached toward his outstretched hand. This was the pretty little animal Norma Vespasian had ridden. Moving into the stall, Waddell ran a hand along the animal's back and found it rough with dried sweat. This was as he expected it would be, for late for work on her return to town, Norma had had no time to do more than unsaddle the filly and pull down a feed of wild timothy for it.

Waddell located a curry comb and brush and began giving the filly a grooming.

He thought again of the girl who had ridden this horse, how she had looked in the saddle, how quick and fine her laughter, and the full richness of character she had revealed.

Then he turned quickly in response to the slightly mocking words which reached him.

"Changed jobs, maybe? Now a stable roustabout?"

Past the gate of the box stall he looked at Lucy Garrison in the stable entrance, a shoulder point hooked negligently against the door post. With her back to the light he could make nothing of her expression beyond the faintly jeering twist of her lips.

"A roustabout for a quiet hour," he admitted briefly. "And thinking how honest and secure a stable can be. How did you get here?"

"I'd been visiting with Mrs. Crowder. I saw you go in here, so I came over."

He put curry comb and brush aside, moved from the stall to stand beside her. He got his tobacco and rolled a cigarette.

"Why?"

Her voice was low, without a trace of jeering. "I'm not sure, impulse maybe, or curiosity. You should feel flattered, Chris Waddell. I'm not in the habit of railing after men, either on impulse or any other reason."

"Just what do you expect of me?"

"I don't know. Maybe if you will talk to me. Yes, I think that's it. Just talk to me."

"About—what?"

"Most anything. Except mines and ore and assays—and Garrison respectability!" She ended a trifle fiercely.

"There's nothing wrong with mines, or respectability." Smiling a trifle, he added, "Though right now the last is getting quite a going over. For you shouldn't seek out strange men in stables, you know—not for any reason."

"I'd make friends with a wooden Indian," she declared, "just so I had somebody different to talk to. Dad and his mines. Aunt Clara and her everlasting respectability!"

"Surely your home can't always be as empty as that," Waddell said. "Your father—your aunt—they must have friends?"

"Dad, yes. But they all talk of the same things he does. And so far, Aunt Clara hasn't found anyone in Midas Hill who measures up to her ideas. Of course she'll have no truck with the common herd."

"What would she think if she saw you here, talking to me?"

"That I was headed straight for the hottest corner of the devil's kitchen. Aunt Clara just can't get rid of her conviction that all men are monsters. That is—all but one."

"And who would that preferred individual be?"

"Price Ringgold." Waddell sobered. "Your friend, too?"

"No, I hate him!" It was a flat, definite statement. "I do not see how Dad and Aunt Clara can stand him around. And he hates you, you know."

"I would guess that he might," Waddell acknowledged. "How did you learn of it?"

"I heard him ranting to Dad about you, saying you should run out of camp. I've wondered what you did to him."

"Mainly refuse to get off the earth when he came by."

She nodded. "That would do it. He can't stand to be opposed." Abruptly she changed the subject. "How long have you known Norma Vespasian?"

Waddell replied warily. "Only since I came to Midas Hill."

"You like her, don't you? Else you wouldn't be caring for her horse."

"She's a very admirable person," Waddell said carefully. "Do you say that about all women?"

"I don't know many women," fenced Waddell.

"Could you say it about me—and mean it?"

"I could—and I do."

Cubans Back Away From Showdown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus Dispatch staff writer, Clair Stebbins, reporting from the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, said today Fidel Castro's Cuban government had backed away from a military showdown with U. S. Navy air and sea power after intercepting an American cable-laying ship.

The ship, the Western Union, had been intercepted Friday in international waters five miles off the east Cuban port of Baracoa, Stebbins reported.

Stebbins said the Navy's Office of Information at Guantanamo was not authorized to release the information immediately.

He said the Western Union was intercepted at mid-afternoon by a Cuban gunboat which pulled alongside and ordered the vessel to head for shore.

"The entire jet strength of Guantanamo's Carter airfield went into action and planes were dispatched, two at a time, to maintain surveillance on the Cuban gunboat and the small American vessel," he wrote.

"At no time did the American aircraft or warship invade Cuban skies or water. No one would comment, however, on what might have happened if the cable ship had not been released. Nor is it known whether an explicit ultimatum was delivered to the Cubans during the time when peace hung in the balance."

After being released, the cable ship proceeded to Key West under escort of a destroyer, the account said.

But the same story is being told now in Laos where the Kennedy administration is trying to stop the drive of northern Laotian Communists who — with the help of Russia and forces from North Viet Nam — are pushing south.

There, too, Associated Press newsmen have reported the same word — "apathy" — which Allen noted in the early days of the Indochina fighting, plus this: That a majority of the Laotians, instead of siding with the Communists or the American-backed government there, just want to be neutral.

Brightest Golf Stars Tune Up for Masters

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—As golf's brightest stars tuned up today for the silver jubilee Masters Tournament, the meet's very first champion said the storied Augusta National course now is a test of power rather than finesse.

Horton Smith, the aging, meticulous putter who won the inaugural show in 1934 and again triumphed in 1936, readied for Thursday's start of his 25th consecutive Masters. He sadly commented that the Augusta National "just isn't treacherous now."

"It still is a tremendous golf course," said Smith of the par 36-72 layout cradled in some 6,000 yards of horticultural splendor. "But within the past five years somehow it has called for more power than trickery."

Billy Casper, former U.S. Open champion and a ranking Masters' contender this year, also thinks the once-treacherous speed of Augusta's greens is gone to some degree.

"They are so well-matted now, they probably never will be as fast as they once were," said Casper, whose 3-under-par 67 practice round Monday indicated he'll be pressing to improve his fourth-place Masters' finish last year with 287.

Two other players also seeking their first Masters' title, Chick Harbert and Dick Chapman, fired 69s as most of the big guns in the expected field of more than 90 hand-picked entries tested the wind-swept course under leaden skies.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer, aiming for an unprecedented second successive Masters' title and his third in four years, came in with "a 71 or something like that."

Ken Venturi, who finished a stroke behind Palmer's winning 282 last year, also shot a 71, while 73s were carded by Ben Hogan, two-time Masters' winner and holder of the record of 274 (1953); power-hitting Mike Souchak; Jay Hebert, and Walter Burkemo.

Redwings Plan No New Strategy

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings plan no strategy changes, no matter what team they face in the Stanley Cup hockey finals.

"Our formula is simple," said General Manager Jack Adams. "All we have to do is to be certain to keep using it."

Adams and Coach Sid Abel agreed that the way the underdog Red Wings beat the Toronto Maple Leafs in five games in their best-of-seven semifinal series was "check the daylight out of them and keep the pressure on—and hope your hard work pays off."

The Wings never trailed except in the opening game, Toronto's lone triumph of the series.

The Wings claim they don't care which team they face. The Chicago Black Hawks lead the Montreal Canadiens, regular season champions of the National Hockey League, 3-2 in their semifinal round. The Hawks could wrap it up with a victory tonight in Chicago.

Basketball Probe Brings Arrests

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York County grand jury began an investigation today of the latest college basketball scandals that already have led to the arrest of two men.

The pair, Aaron Wagman, 28, and Joseph Hacken, 41, both of New York, were scheduled to appear for a hearing before Magistrate Louis Wallach in felony court.

Both have been charged with bribing two Seton Hall players and one from the university of Connecticut to shave points on games in which their teams were involved.

One New York police source said the scandal could involve from 15 to 25 colleges.

But so far, District Attorney Frank Hogan—who also handled the 1951 fixing scandal—has made no new revelations.

Winners Get Rich Pot in Pro Playoff

NEW YORK (AP)—There's $35,000 up for grabs in the best-of-seven National Basketball Association championship series involving Boston and St. Louis now in progress, with $21,000 earmarked for the 10 players on the winning team and $14,000 to the losers.

The huge melon is approximately one-quarter of the $125,000 pot with which the NBA officials reward teams competing in the various playoffs. The players do not share in the gate receipts as is done by the baseball teams in the World Series.

The team finishing the season with the highest won-lost percentage is given $2,000. That went to Boston this year. Additionally, the teams winning the divisional championships get $10,000 each, Boston won the Eastern flag, St. Louis the Western.

Los Angeles and Philadelphia, as runners up in each division, were rewarded with $3,000 and all four teams in the semifinal playoffs—Philadelphia, Syracuse, Los Angeles and Detroit—each received $6,000.

Winners of the divisional championship series were enriched by $10,500 per club while the two losers got $8,500. This year Boston and St. Louis got the larger sums while Syracuse and Los Angeles the smaller amount.

If Boston wins the best-of-seven final round, the Celtics will divide $43,500. If St. Louis wins, the Hawks will have $41,500 to split.

Views Differ on the John Birch Society

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Different views were voiced today on the death of John Birch, for whom the right-wing John Birch Society was named.

Birch, then an Army captain, was killed Aug. 25, 1945 while on an OSS intelligence mission in central China.

In Billings, Mont., a radio-TV executive, Joseph Sample, who served in the same OSS outfit as Birch, said in an interview: "There was no real object lesson in Birch's death and certainly no glory."

In Los Angeles, stockbroker William P. Weiss Jr., one-time OSS officer who made up the mission on which Birch was killed, said: "Certainly John was just as much a hero as any other American soldier who died for his country."

In Pasadena, a Los Angeles suburb, manufacturer Gustav J. Krause—another wartime comrade of Birch—said: "He brought about his own death. He didn't die the hero he was supposed to have died."

The John Birch Society, under fire from some national magazines, and newspapers and some congressmen, has been accused of using Fascist tactics in its self-appointed task of fighting communism.

Birch, a missionary's son who spoke fluent Chinese, was shot by the leader of a group of Communist Chinese.

Sample, president of KOOK and KOOK-TV in Billings, said Birch's patrol ran into "a force of Chinese Reds. The Chinese were understandably disturbed by what seemed to them an unwarranted intrusion of their area and demanded an explanation."

"Capt. Birch chose to bluff his way out of a difficult situation. Harsh words led to insults and insults to arrogance."

Weiss, who lives in suburban Alhambra, said: "He (Birch) was risking his life over and above the normal hazards required of our services during the war on a volunteer basis. Unfortunately, he wasn't as skilled as he should

No Threats in Bowling Congress

DETROIT (AP)—The 31st day of the American Bowling Congress Tournament produced no serious threats to the leaders of the big tenpin circus' nine categories.

Chuck Wintersteen, 34, operator of a Hammond, Ind., bowling center, supplied the only excitement in the classic division when he took third place in the singles with 673. He hardly imperiled Earl Johnson of Chicago who earned the lead last Wednesday with 733.

Everett MacKey, Painesville, Ohio, tied for fifth place in the regular singles with 684. The 44-year-old industrial printer rolled games of 241, 190 and 253 in his first ABC tournament.

JFK Presses for His New Frontier Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats are launching a big effort to bring public pressure to bear on Congress for enactment of President Kennedy's New Frontier program.

Instructions have gone out from the Democratic National Committee to party workers across the country to drum up support for the President's program by urging citizens to write and call their senators and congressmen.

Margaret Price, vice chairman of the committee, is sponsoring a "Support the President" drive among women. She has pointed it in its initial stages toward exerting pressure on the Senate to get the kind of minimum wage bill Kennedy wants.

Kennedy's proposal for a step-by-step increase in the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour, with an extension of coverage to $3.8 million additional workers, was beaten by one vote in the House.

The House then passed a Republican substitute raising the minimum to $1.15 and covering 1.4 million additional workers.

In what seemed an obvious attempt to give time for public pressure to accumulate, Senate Democratic leaders postponed Senate action on the Kennedy bill until the middle of next week.

Through its publication, "The Democrat," the national committee spelled out some of the spending benefits it said states and local communities will get from a Kennedy program Republicans have attacked as offering "pie in the sky."

The committee listed six proposals it said will pump $2.1 billion additional spending power into the economy. They included aid for dependent children of the unemployed, Social Security increases, housing and community development, additional surplus food distribution, acceleration of the highway program and speeded up payments of veterans life insurance dividends.

The insurance dividend and food distribution moves have been accomplished by executive order. None of the other proposals have cleared Congress.

Will Try Change in Redistricting

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—T. E. Tyler of Little Rock, a former Pulaski County representative, said today he would attempt to have the congressional redistricting law passed by the 1961 Legislature referred to a popular vote.

If he is successful, it apparently would mean that candidates for national House seats would have to run at large next year.

The referendum on the redistricting act would be held at the November, 1962, general election. Congressmen would be elected at the same time although Democratic candidates, who customarily are successful, would be picked at the summer primaries.

The Legislature cut the present six districts to four because a population loss will reduce the state's House representation.

Tyler and his associates will need about 25,000 signatures on petitions to refer the redistricting law. The act is the second scheduled to be referred to popular vote.

Shortly after the Legislature adjourned, former Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry announced he would seek a vote on a new law which repeals old acts specifically requiring that railroad train crewmen keep a lookout for persons or property on the tracks.

During the Ice Age the moose, caribou, musk oxen, mountain sheep, bear and wolverine came to America across the Bering land bridge.

Said Krause: "The Chinese Communists would fire at the drop of a hat. Because of Birch's background and his long life in China he threw his weight around. He was the type of fellow who was not a military man but was recruited because of his language ability."

"There were many men who gave their lives—thousands of Americans who were much greater heroes. But Birch operated on the fact that he knew the Chinese language and had lived in China."

Indians Get Win Streak Snapped

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Indians, who had their baseball winning streak snapped at six games Monday by Mississippi, take on the Rebels again here today in an attempt to even the series.

Ole Miss beat the Tribe 9-3 in the second game of a double-header. Arkansas had tripped Western Illinois 4-2 in the opener. Western Illinois does not play here today.

Bob Siddell of Ole Miss doled out only six hits in handcuffing the Indians. Terry Everett of Arkansas State struck out nine, walked one and allowed six hits in the victory over Western Illinois.

Arkansas State held the Rebels to a 3-3 tie until the seventh inning, when Jake Gibbs, Billy Jones and Doug Elmore got consecutive doubles for the Reds, sparking a four-run rally that broke the game open.

Andy Morris and Fred Mitchell each collected two hits for the Indians in the first game.

Lauderdale Reports to Prison Farm

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—E. A. Lauderdale Sr., Little Rock integrationist leader, has reported to Cummins State Prison Farm to begin serving a three-year sentence imposed in the racially-tinged bombings here on Labor Day, 1959.

Lauderdale had been given until today to enter the prison, but Sheriff L. C. Young said he picked up commitment papers Saturday and went to the farm on Sunday.

The Arkansas Supreme Court, in a divided opinion, recently upheld the prison sentence and a $500 fine. The court refused a rehearing, and Lauderdale's attorneys decided against trying for a U. S. Supreme Court review.

The state contended that Lauderdale masterminded a plot to bomb the Little Rock School Board office, Mayor Werner C. Knoop's business office and Fire Chief Gann Nalley's city-owned automobile.

No one was injured in the series of nighttime dynamitings, which took place a few weeks after the school board, with backing of city officials, reopened public high schools here with limited integration.

Four others also were charged in the bombings. One pleaded guilty and received a five-year prison sentence, a second pleaded guilty and got off with a suspended sentence and the remaining two were convicted and sentenced to three years each.

Lauderdale's case was the last to be disposed of.

Roberts Looks Good Before Being Injured

By DON WEISS

Robin Roberts, puffed ear and all, has taken another big stride toward the Philadelphia Phillies' opening day assignment that used to be his by habit.

The veteran pitcher, 34, who has had only one winning season in the last four after ranking for years as the National League's top right-hander, pushed his string of scoreless exhibition innings to 23 1-3 Monday. Then a drive off his right ear sent him to the showers sooner than Manager Gene Mauch had intended.

Roberts pitched 6 1-3 scoreless innings in the Phils' 3-2, 16-inning victory over the New York Yankees—then wobbled off the field at St. Petersburg, Fla., when a one-punch smash off the bat of the Yanks' Clete Boyer struck him on the ear.

The 13-year Phils' vet is undergoing treatment at a Clearwater, Fla., hospital to guard against a "cauliflower ear" but the injury isn't considered serious and he is expected to go as scheduled against the Pirates in an exhibition at Wichita on Friday.

Barring further complications, that'll tune the 6-2, 200-pound Roberts for the Phils' opener at Los Angeles a week from tonight at the Coliseum.

Back-to-back doubles by Tony Taylor and Johnny Callison broke up the game against the Yanks in the feature of a Monday exhibition program that also saw Roberts' former teammate, Curt Simmons, pitch St. Louis to a 4-3 victory over Chicago's White Sox; Pittsburgh whip Cincinnati 5-2; the new Los Angeles Angels crush San Francisco 12-8; Washington edge Baltimore 2-1 in 13 innings; Minnesota wallop Detroit 11-4 and Cleveland outlast Boston 10-9.

Simmons, who helped Roberts and Jim Konstanty pitch the Phils' Whiz Kids to their startling NL pennant in 1950, allowed but
